SALARY CAP 101

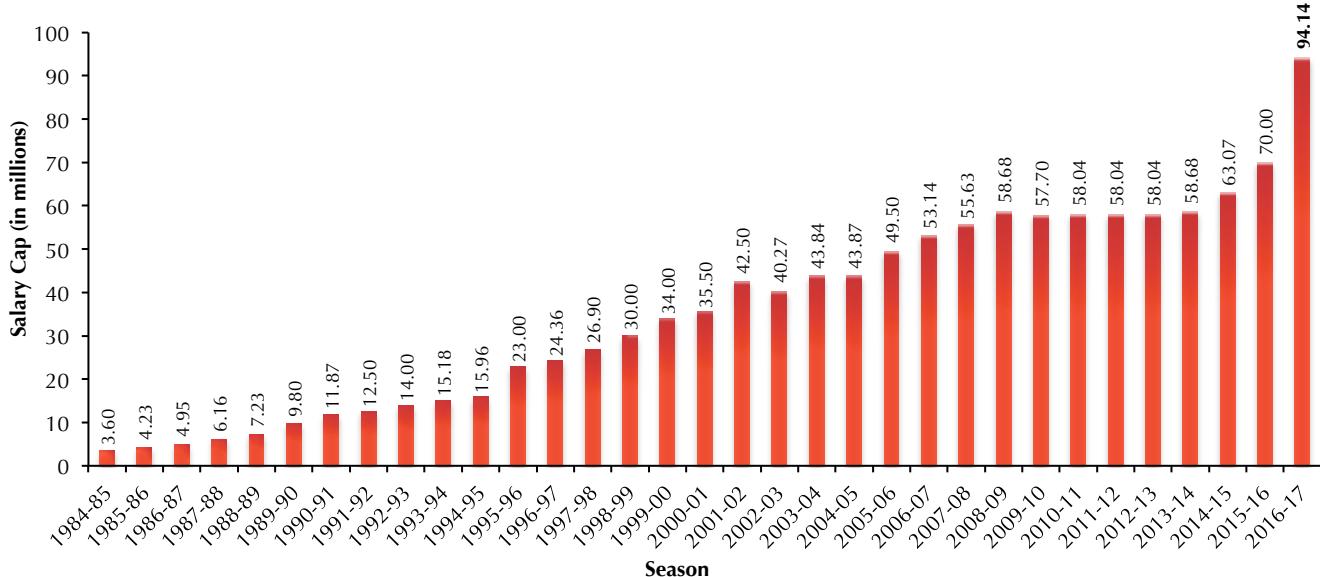

SALARY CAP NOMENCLATURE

SALARY CAP	The limit on the amount of money a team can spend on player contracts.
CAP SPACE	The amount of money available to a team to spend on player contracts before exceeding the salary cap.
HARD CAP	Teams are subjected to the hard cap if they are (1) below the apron and (2) use their Bi-Annual exception, Mid-Level exception or receive a player via a sign-and-trade.
	Once hard-capped teams cannot exceed the luxury tax apron under any circumstances.
LUXURY TAX LINE	A pre-determined level above the salary cap which helps control team spending. Teams above the luxury tax line at the end of the season have to pay a luxury tax penalty for each dollar they exceed the line. Teams which are above the luxury tax line for at least 3 of the previous 4 seasons have to pay a higher tax rate ("repeater rate").
LUXURY TAX SPACE	The amount of money available to a team to spend on player contracts before exceeding the luxury tax line and subsequently having to pay the luxury tax penalty at the end of the season.
LUXURY TAX APRON	A line $4 million above the luxury tax line. Teams which exceed the "apron" lose their Bi-Annual exception, Mid-Level Exception and cannot receive a player in a sign-and-trade.
APRON SPACE	The amount of money available to hard-capped teams to spend on player contracts without exceeding the hard cap set at the luxury tax apron.
CAP HOLD	Financial values assigned to player a team is expected to sign in the future (free agents, unsigned rookies) which contributes to a teams available cap space.
PLAYER OPTION	The player has the right to extend their contract for an additional year.
TEAM OPTION	The team has the right to extend a player's contract for an additional year.
EARLY TERMINATION OPTION	The player has the right to terminate their contract early.
UFA (UNRESTRICTED FREE AGENT)	The player is free to sign with any other team.
RFA (RESTRICTED FREE AGENT)	The player's original team has the right to retain the player by matching the contract the player signs with another team.
